

EXTRAORDINARY "MANIFESTATIONS"
A letter in the Saint Louis "Spirit World," dated "Brookville, (Marion Co., Mo.) April 29, 1853," relates some circumstances well calculated to task credulity. The following is an extract from the letter—and appended are the names of witnesses and auditors, with whom some of our readers may be acquainted:

On the first evening, hearing of the "fun," as they called it, several persons, mostly young men, came into the circle to satisfy an idle curiosity. The spirits being called on, one suddenly announced its presence by dancing and stamping until the house shook; loud raps followed; according to previous direction, the lights in the room were extinguished, yet the large sky-lights and windows afforded sufficient light to see and watch the action of every individual in the room—at any rate, I am confident that any attempt at deception on the part of any one in the circle or room would have been readily detected, and I can assure you, Mr. Editor, as readily exposed and condemned. The next operation of our spirit-friend was combing the heads in the circle. I cannot remember ever having seen done up more nicely; the teeth in the comb were distinctly felt by all present. Our invisible hair dresser would invariably finish by giving us a box on the ear. During this performance we could feel something like the ends of fingers on our heads; but put your hand on one side to catch it, and it was on the other! The next manifestation was the sticking us with pins; almost simultaneously, each individual was stuck—the pin apparently entering half its length, or until the blood would ooze out.

Of this, the most singular fact is, no one felt any of the results that would naturally follow such a cause. The spirit then went round the circle, shaking hands with us; and although it was simply a touch, and beyond our power to grasp, still we could plainly feel the shape of a hand. He was then heard in the centre of the room, away from the circle, cracking his fingers. He then took a portion of the bed clothes, and went round the circle whipping us with them. We then asked the spirit to draw some of our coats and boots, which was immediately done—first a coat and then a boot.—While this was going on, nearly all of us made efforts to catch that which seemed to hover so near and control us, but it would, however, frequently touch our hands as if to assure us that it might be held.

Finally, my hat, which was a braided straw one, passed from my head! Notwithstanding the series of events just witnessed, the amusement of the company at this evidence of spirit power, cannot be described. The hat was carried to and fro along the ceiling, rubbing it distinctly all the way; when, suddenly, rip! rip! it came, piece by piece, string by string, atom after atom, to the centre of the floor!

The above is only a brief history of the evening of the 20th. To give a full and minute account would occupy more room in your paper than I feel willing to take. And as it is to us more of novelty than beneficial, I pass it by to give your readers the manifestations of the following evening, which surpassed anything I have ever seen or heard of.

After much had been given by spirits, similar to the previous evening, it was proposed to form a large circle, place the medium, (Miss Mary Powell,) in the centre of it, and have some real fun, for "fun" was what led most of them to the circle. This being done, it was desired of the spirits, that if present, to signify the same by saying "yes." We were induced to go thus far in our request from the fact that some one, on another occasion, thought he heard an audible voice. To the astonishment of all, I may say to the terror of many—"yes" was spoken in a tone so distinct that all present heard it. Some were so frightened at this manifestation that they ran from the room; others burst into a flood of tears—among the latter number, Miss Powell, the medium. After the excitement had somewhat abated we enquired whether the spirit would converse with us? It answered readily, in a clear, audible voice, "Yes, if you are all willing!" I should state that the number present numbered twenty or twenty-five.

A vote was immediately taken as to who were willing to listen to the spirit, when we replied that all were content. The spirit answered that all did not say "yes." Now it seemed an unanimous "yes" had been heard; but on enquiry it was found that the landlady of the house and a young man had remained silent; but these soon gave their consent, when the spirit commenced speaking as follows:

"Oh! do not believe that I am the Devil—(a very common opinion among the speculators, and seemed confirmed by the proceedings of the previous evening)—for it is the spirit of Mary Gray, (a young lady who died in this neighborhood about fourteen years ago,) that now speaks to you. She was one of your best friends; she is your friend still. She comes to speak peace, and teach you to love God. You remember a little child that died in this place a few days ago; I met that child on the way to its spirit home. I was not acquainted with it, but another spirit told me who it was. It is the child of Mrs. Roby. Tell its mother, for me, that it is happy, that it is lovely, and in Heaven. I am forced to say there are many in this room who are not prepared for the comforts of the spirit life. I could call their names, but will not. Will they turn and serve God? He is love.—You have been this last evening trifling with spirits. This is wrong. It is good to converse with them, but not to trifle with them. At Mrs. Ward's also, (in the neighborhood,) a few minutes ago, they were trifling with them;" (which on enquiry proved to be true.) She then referred to the proceedings of the previous evening, and said it was a wicked spirit that tore up the hat. She continued: "I have wings; I could fan all of you; but will not do it. I will not trifle with you."

If any of your opponents have any doubts concerning the matter, on the score of testimony, they can address—

Miller Crane, Samuel B. Hatcher, Samuel H. Smoot, Nelson Crane, Brookville, Mo.; Cyrus Powell, Mrs. Powell, David Willis, Miss Mary Powell, Philadelphia, Mo.; Peter Krizer, Mrs. Krizer, New Market, Mo.

Some of these were present on the first evening—most of them on both; and were I disposed to use the names of entire strangers, I could send you a great many more.
C. R. BASHORE.

FATAL AFFRAY.—On Sunday night last, two negro men, Adam and Edmund, belonging to Mr. Hayden and Mrs. McClane, of this city, got into a quarrel, which ended in the former stabbing the latter several times with a knife. One of the wounds in his side is very large, and the doctor's opinion is that it will prove fatal. Adam was arrested by the Marshal, but he has since succeeded in making his escape.—[Cape Girardeau Eagle.]
